THE GRAND PLEATED-PETALLED DAHLIA.

SERRATIPETALA, s/- per dozen.—Glowing scarlet; the shape of this variety is absolutely unique amongst Dahlias. The petals instead of being flat, are, as it were, pleated, with the edges divided into points, generally two and sometimes three points to a petal, giving a fish-tail or scalloped appearance. It is of remarkably free habit, and the petals never drop, which is the well-known drawback with the ordinary Single Dahlia. This makes it of great value for cut bloom, and room and table decoration. It has been exhibited several times, and has won great admiration. WM. ROBINSON, Esq., editor of the Garden, says (Garden, Oct. 28th, 1893):—"DAHLIA SERRATIPETALA—This comes from Messrs. Kelway, and is very bright and singular looking."

KELWAY'S WHITE DELPHINIUMS.

A NEW RACE.

These charming novelties originated in our nurseries at Langport. They are genuine acquisitions to the border, as they are absolutely unique as to colour, or, strictly speaking, lack of colour. White, amongst Delphiniums, has previously been unknown except in a certain small-flowered species, to which Kelway's White Delphiniums have no resemblance whatever. The form of spike is absolutely similar to that prevailing in the best of our varieties of the blue shade, i.e., massively cylindrical, with side shoots below the centre column. The lovely coloured picture appearing in The Garden of October 31st, 1896, where a spike of the Beauty of Langport was figured as a contrast to one of our bright blue varieties, will be remembered by all who saw it.

BEAUTY OF LANGPORT, clear creamy white, with a yellow eye; semi-double.

AWARD OF MERIT, Royal Horticultural Society, June 11th, 1895. 7/- each; 3 for 20/-; 80/- dozen.

DELPHINIUM, Beauty of Langport.—This variety is a distinct break in a family where blue is quite the predominant hue. Its flowers are creamy white, the petals prettily tipped with pale sulphur-yellow.—THE GARDEN.

DELPHINIUM, Beauty of Langport (KELWAY & SON).—This is a fine variety with a medium sized spike, and flowers creamy white, with petals tinged with sulphur. Award of Merit.—JOURNAL OF HORTICULTURE.
